Global Emerging Educational Leaders Summit 2010
Connecting the Tribe - Innovating the Future
27th - 28th September 2010
Sydney, Australia

Principals!
Do you have an outstanding emerging leader in your school?
Are you mentoring an aspiring future leader?
Now is your opportunity to invest in their development.

Aspiring Leaders!
Do you want to learn in a dynamic environment from global experts in educational leadership and change?
Would you like to connect with like-minded emerging educational leaders with a passion to make an impact?
This is a Summit not to be missed.

ACEL is excited to announce the launch of a Global Summit for emerging leaders which is specifically designed to equip and inspire the next generation of educational ‘change agents.’ The Summit will be chaired by Simon Breakspear, Learning Partner for ACEL’s Emerging Leaders Strategy.

Overview
The 2010 Summit will gather a ‘tribe’ of 100 of the most innovative and inspirational emerging educators (35 years old or younger) from across the Commonwealth of Nations for two days of collaboration, leadership development and exposure to the most innovative educational ideas on the planet. This Summit is set to become an annual ‘incubator’ for emerging educational thought leaders globally.

The Emerging Leaders Summit will be an intensive and customised leadership development experience. Working with leading academics and experienced practitioners from the field, participants will be equipped with the capabilities and confidence to influence their peers, school and system. Participants will develop the self-awareness, and leadership capabilities necessary for being effective change agents in a range of educational contexts.

The Summit will provide a unique opportunity for high-potential teachers and leaders to build collaborative partnerships with others from across the Commonwealth of Nations. The conference aims to connect this new ‘tribe’ of change agents in order to stimulate innovative initiatives and support the emergence of a fresh conversation about educational change. An online platform will ensure participants can stay connected and collaborate beyond the Summit.

Learning Experience
The 2010 Summit will be a truly world-class and innovative conference experience. Sessions will be highly interactive and aim to draw out the experiences, perspectives and opinions of all participants through a dynamic combination of keynotes and collaborative sessions.

There is a ‘No Boring Sessions’ guarantee and plenty of time built-in for rich conversations with like-minded aspiring educational thought leaders.

Never before have young leaders had such an opportunity to engage in a dynamic learning environment with an array of both emerging and highly experienced educational thought leaders.

Some highlight include:
- Leadership keynote with Professor Andy Hargreaves
- A panel discussion exploring ‘Innovating the Future’ with global experts including Tony Mackay, Valerie Hannon and Albert Bortani.
- Assessment of individual participant’s leadership strengths through the ACEL Leadership Capability Framework
- 21st century Communication and thought leadership sessions with trendspotter and innovation expert Anders Sorman-Nilsson.
- Live twitter feeds and SMS polls
- Extended collaboration and networking sessions

Learning Objectives
All learning will be grounded in the reality of the practical change that participants are seeking to drive in their schools and communities. It aims to prepare leaders to be action-orientated and future focussed. The curriculum for the Summit is built on the theoretical foundation of the ACEL Leadership Capability Framework.

During the conference Emerging leaders will:
- Acquire an in-depth understanding of LEADERSHIP THEORIES and models in order to gain a framework through which to lead and develop.
- Develop SELF AWARENESS of their current leadership strengths and begin to build a personal leadership philosophy.
- Examine the challenges to DRIVING CHANGE in educational institutions and learn how to lead others with emotional intelligence and resilience.
- Be EXPOSED to innovative approaches to improving learning outcomes.
- Set clear GOALS for future leadership development and plan to establish mentoring relationships.
- Establish a powerful NETWORK of like-minded emerging leaders.

Applications
Interested applicants who are 35 years or younger are encouraged to enroll online as soon as possible. We encourage all Australian Principals and Commonwealth educational leaders to sponsor an Emerging Leader for this world-class Program.
